Railroad Circles In Pittsburgh Hear Reports Of Probable Move

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 7.—Leasing of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie rails from McKeesport to New Castle junction by the Baltimore and Ohio for through freight and passenger trains is the objective of a deal reported pending in railroad circles here today.

A similar arrangement was successfully carried on during government control of the roads during the war and necessary transfer facilities are already in existence, it was said.

Minor features of a plan through which the two roads would consolidate freight and passenger facilities in Pittsburgh already have been agreed upon as an economy measure, Charles W. Galloway, vice president of the B. & O., said today.

Silent On Negotiations
Railroad authorities here were officially silent on the negotiations. Under the arrangement planned, it believed that the Baltimore and Ohio would cut 30 minutes from its schedules between McKeesport and New Castle, and that four crack Chicago, New York trains would serve the Pittsburgh area under the new set-up.

It is considered likely that a junction point of the two roads will be at Hays inasmuch as downtown connections between the two stations would be difficult and expensive.

No definite date has been reached for the consolidation of trackage, railroad officials said here.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Yesterday was an extremely warm day, the temperature rising to 89 degrees, and curiously enough, there was a hot wave about this time a year ago, 89 degree marks being established on June 4 and 5, after which is cooled off appreciably.

The hundreds of spectators at the New Castle high school commencement program last night, were certainly evident of the fact that a heat wave has arrived. It was one of the warmest graduation nights in New Castle in many years.

Pa Newc noted a new idea in effect yesterday. An auto was being driven around the streets with a cake of ice on the front bumper, in front of the radiator. Whether it was to cool the radiator, or whether it was a convenient place to carry the ice for delivery, Pa Newc didn't determine.

Announcement that the new post office building is about ready for the cornerstone laying ceremony, indicates that steady and substantial progress is being made on construction of the new federal post office here. Stone work on the outer walls of the building will soon be noticeable.

Corporations are evidently strong for beauty. At the Gas Company sub-station out along the Ellwood City road, just outside the city, there are to be noted some of the most beautiful roses in the district.

Cascade Park is apparently all set for a real comeback, this summer. Plans under way will make it the beauty spot intended, and that which appealed most to the public in years gone by.

Pa Newc notes that city hall is still in need of that spelling book. (Continued On Page Two)

Some Promise Of Heat Relief Is Held Out

(International News Service)
Almost the entire country sweltered again today under a scorching mid-summer sun as temperatures soared to new highs in the middlewest. The Chicago area was hardest hit with Weather Forecaster C. A. Donnel predicting cooling showers late today or tonight. At 10 o'clock the mercury had climbed to 86.

Some relief from the torrid rays was found in the north and northwest sections of the middle-west, but through Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Iowa the thermometer was almost as relentless as it was yesterday when it shot above 100 degrees in some sections.

Ice Cream Drivers Strike.
Added to Chicago's distress was a strike by several hundred members of the Ice Cream Drivers Union, tying up all ice cream deliveries.

Detroit baked in record heat with the thermometer registering 86 at 10 o'clock. One death was reported at Grand Rapids, where the heat wave brought record thermometer readings.

In Columbus the mercury had climbed to 86 at 9 o'clock, 15 degrees above normal, with the record of 92 degrees set in 1899 expected to be broken.

Senate Probers Seek Expansion Of Their Powers

Want Senate To Grant Power To Make Income Tax
Investigation

PROBE IS AIMED AT MORGAN PARTNERS

Senate Committee Meets In Secret To Consider
Plan Of Action

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 7.—A sweeping income tax inquiry, involving three partners in the great house of Morgan, seemed assured today as the Senate banking and currency committee met in secret session to draft a resolution asking the Senate to expand its inquisitorial powers.

This action was deemed necessary, after counsel for J. Pierpont Morgan protested the committee had no authority to investigate individual stock transactions, with a view to shedding light on income tax returns. Morgan's counsel, indeed, protested the Senate itself had no such power.

Will Probe Income
The partners involved were William Ewing, Harold Stanley and young Thomas S. Lamont, son of Thomas W. Lamont, a senior member of the Morgan firm. Young Lamont was involved through a series of stock transactions with his wife, while Ewing and Stanley merely sold securities in recent years to reduce their income tax payments. Morgan counsel insisted all the transactions were legal.

The income tax issue once more diverted attention from the inquiry into the railroad empire, erected by the Van Sweringen brothers on borrowed capital and finally acquired by the house of Morgan through a gigantic holding corporation. The committee sought more light on the intricate negotiations from O. P. Van Sweringen, who produced a blank memory and little information while on the witness stand.

Poor Memory
Despite Van Sweringen's apparent evasions, the inquiry brought out that he and his brother bought control of the Nickel Plate, the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Erie, the Pere Marquette and the Hooking Valley without spending money of his own. Most of the financing was done on borrowed funds, repaid by sale of stock in specially organized holding companies.

TRAIN DEPARTS FOR CAMP WITH 332 FORESTERS

County Sends 84 Boys In Second Group—Reach Fort
Washington Today

Townpeople bid farewell last night to the 84 young single men who comprised the second Lawrence county contingent of President Roosevelt's growing "forest army."

At the stroke of 8:20 o'clock, Daylight Savings time—an hour before their scheduled departure time—the eager recruits from New Castle, Ellwood City and other county points left on a special Pennsylvania railroad train for their two weeks of U. S. Army camp life at Fort Washington, Md.

The train of nine coaches carried a party of 332 boys from Lawrence, Venango, Mercer and Butler counties. Doctors had given the boys a preliminary medical examination here yesterday.

Pennsylvania railroad officials aided army men in the work attending their departure. They advanced the hour for departure when army authorities pointed out the day had tired the boys considerably. Arriving in Washington, D. C., this morning, the boys, after breakfasting in the capital, were to board a government boat for a ride down the Potomac river to the camp.

The county's first delegation, now in their forest camp, numbered 100 boys.

High School Is Grad-

Awards Are Made At Con-

Of Exercises

While an oppressive heat beat down upon it, an audience that taxed capacity of the building, sat through a glamorous student-enacted educational pageant at the Cathedral last night and later saw 283 seniors receive their diplomas at the 61st annual commencement ceremonies of the senior high school.

Pageant Wins Applause
Hot weather seems to be synonymous to June graduations, but even in spite of the throng's slight discomfort the impressive stage spectacle and well-timed program of last night was tremendously enjoyed. It climaxed for over 100 seniors and a corps of teachers month's of diligent work.

Given by the science and mathematics departments as their commencement contribution, the scenes unfolded an interesting story of the part those two fields of wisdom have played in the drama of the world. Other school departments have sponsored earlier programs.

Able narrators—speaking like master orators—described the different episodes, portrayed life-like in costumes worn during the periods they represented. Without a hitch the actors spoke their lines, written by the departments which were responsible for the displays. Scenes were executed with magnificence.

Two-Part Exercises
The graduation exercises were divided into two parts, the first being devoted to the pageant and the last to the ordinary features of a commencement.

Throughout the pageant the high school orchestra played numbers between episodes, and played the entry and exit marches for the 100 (Continued On Page Six)

INDIANA TENTH STATE FOR DRY REPEAL

Indiana Joins Repeal Column

State Long Regarded As Arid, Casts Surprising
Wet Vote Tuesday

BECOMES TENTH RATIFYING STATE

(International News Service)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 7.—Indiana, formerly one of the most arid states, definitely turned its back on national prohibition today with a two to one vote for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Once a stronghold of the Anti-Saloon League, Indiana becomes the tenth state to join the repeal procession.

On the basis of incomplete returns the vote showed that at least 245 out of a possible 329 will go to the convention here June 26 pledged to vote for ratification of the Twenty-First Amendment abolishing the Eighteenth.

Large Vote.
The popular vote, assuming landslide proportions for repeal in the industrial centers, stood at 501,239 for repeal and 277,694 against ratification in 3,374 of the entire 3,691 precincts.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, led the dry forces in the pre-election campaign and regarded Indiana as a pivotal state in stemming the repeal march. He had predicted a dry victory on the basis of the convention machinery which closed off a state-wide vote, delegates being elected by counties, on the basis of one for each 10,000 population.

counsel, wanted to complete the picture by revealing how Morgan acquired final control of the Van Sweringen empire. This was accomplished through formation of the Allegheny Corporation—the giant holding concern. In it Morgan took a commanding interest.

Legal Question
The proposed income tax inquiry brought up a highly technical legal question. It was whether the Senate may investigate individual stock transactions, which might reveal income tax frauds. The committee decided the Senate had this power when it ordered a resolution drafted enlarging its authority to investigate "the practices of buying and selling securities as such practices may effect the taxing powers of the government."

This was ordered by a vote of 11 to 6 at yesterday's secret session of the committee. The vote was carefully guarded, but International News Service learned the division.

Deaths of the Day

Willis Coblentz Funeral.
Funeral services for little Willis Coblentz, Little Beaver township, who was the victim of a baseball bat accident, were held from the family home Tuesday afternoon with Rev. Tolson of Mineral Ridge officiating.

Interment was made in Little Beaver cemetery; pallbearers were Robert Wallace, Leonard Marshall, Paul Russell and Earl Mott.

E. W. Hodge Funeral.
One of the largest funerals ever held in Greenville, was that of E. W. Hodge, lovingly known as "Billy" Hodge, held in the First Methodist church of that city, with Rev. J. A. Lyons, Rev. O. H. Nichols and Rev. S. M. Gordon taking part in the services.

A quartet sang "A Charge to Keep for the Lord" and "Prince of Peace." Control My Will" a number which "Billy" had pumped way back in his early boyhood in Eastington, Gloucestershire, England, at the time he was converted, and it was most fitting that this close his days, which numbered ninety years, with the exception of a few days.

Mr. Hodge was one of the best known and most philanthropic persons of Greenville and a few years ago he was presented a medal for distinguished service by the Greenville Kiwanis Club as the man who had done the most good for Greenville.

Mr. Hodge is survived by his wife, Mrs. Angeline Scott Hodge, who is seriously ill; seven children: John H. Hodge and Elizabeth A. Hodge of Greenville, Dr. Emma Worrall, Polk; Thomas S. Hodge, Garfield Hodge, Charles F. Hodge of Greenville and Mrs. F. E. Stough of New Castle; fifteen grand children and nine great grandchildren.

Interment was made in the Shengango Valley cemetery, Greenville and his grandsons acted as pallbearers.

The torrid wave reached as far south as Louisville where yesterday's high of 94 was expected to be passed and one victim of sunstroke was in a serious condition. In Indianapolis the mercury had passed yesterday's level of 88.

East Winds Aid.
In the New England states east winds tempered the blistering heat to a considerable extent.

Philadelphia's reading at 10 o'clock was 80 with the mercury climbing fast. Pittsburgh was scorching under a record heat with the thermometer at 81 at 11 o'clock and one heat prostration reported. Connecticut steamed under terrific humidity with the mercury reaching 77 at 10:45 o'clock.

The west coast was again immune from distressing heat. Los Angeles reported a reading of 65 degrees with San Francisco basking in a cool 63. Seattle reporting 38 and in Portland the mercury was as low as 55.

came upon a question of proceeding with the tax inquiry, without further authority, or of postponing it pending the securing of specific authorization.

Those favoring immediate action were Senators Fletcher, chairman; Costigan, Reynolds and Bankhead, Democrats, and Norbeck and Couzens, Republicans.

Demand Authority
Those favoring additional authority were Senators Glass, Barkley, Bulkley, Gore, Byrnes, Democrats, and Goldsborough, Townsend, Walcott, Carey, Steiwer and Kean, Republicans.

A majority of those voting for the delay professed to favor a searching inquiry into the tax affairs of the Morgan firm, but demanding unquestioned authority. A few protested against investigating the subject at all, arguing that the country was more interested in revelation of the Morgan interests in railroads and utilities than in the income tax returns of any partner.

The present resolution empowered the committee to investigate the "operation of the business of banking" and the "practices of buying and selling securities". The majority of the committee—as did counsel for Morgan's firm—contended this did not justify an investigation of individual stock transactions, since one purchase or sale could not be construed as a practice.

Will Supply Funds

The whole investigation, covering Morgan's banking, railroad and utility interests, has aroused tremendous support in the Senate.

This was indicated when Democratic leaders announced they would rush enactment of any additional powers asked by the committee. It also was reflected in another announcement that the committee can have all the money it desires to finance the inquiry.

An additional fund of $100,000 was proposed by Senator Costigan (D) of Colorado, committee member. It had the approval of Senator Fletcher, committee chairman. Its appropriation by the Senate seemed certain. This will enable Pecora to continue his confidential investigations into the banking practices of private as well as commercial banks. It likewise means the inquiry will last for months.

Curtis was stricken in May of last year as he was cruising near New York on his palatial yacht Lyndonia.

He was brought aboard the ship to this city and transferred to Jefferson hospital. Five days later his wife, who had taken an adjoining room to be near him, died in her sleep of a heart ailment, with which she had been addicted for years. She was his second wife and a second cousin.

Gave Away Millions.

Curtis' death closes a career outstanding in American publishing. He dated his own start in business to one day when as a boy, he purchased a stock of newspapers with a few pennies his mother gave him to buy fireworks.

On this humble beginning he built one of the greatest publishing fortunes in America—a fortune which enabled him to give away millions in philanthropies in his declining days.

Nice new banking laws may help people get so they didn't pay any attention to those old ones.

LOIS EDITH GREEN WEDS DR. D. D. PEIRCE

Dignified simplicity marked the wedding of Miss Lois Edith Green, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Green of Sheridan avenue and Dr. Donald D. Peirce, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Peirce of Ridgeway, Tuesday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock, before an improvised altar of Spring flowers in the bride's home. Dr. W. E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiated with the ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride, given away in marriage by her father, Dr. Green, was lovely in a gown of soft white organza, deeply ruffled, and she wore a veil which has been used in the family many times to adorn the heads of brides. Her arm bouquet was of roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Everett Martin, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a creation of pale blue organza and she carried a mixed bouquet of summer flowers.

During the ceremony, Louise Douds, Beaver Falls, a cousin of the bride, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," to her own accompaniment.

Supplementing the ceremony a dinner was served, the table being handsomely suggestive of the nuptial event.

Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Peirce, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peirce, Ridgeway; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Peirce and children, Frances and Donald of Palmerton, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Martin, Beaver Falls.

The marriage united two families of school heads as the bride's father is superintendent of the New Castle schools and the groom's father is superintendent of the Ridgeway schools.

Mrs. Peirce, who is a graduate of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, and took post graduate work at Almira College, New York, has been engaged in work as secretary to the president of the Clarion State Teachers College. The groom is head of the science department of the same college, and dean of men. He received his A. B. degree from Oberlin College and his Ph. D. from the University of Illinois.

After a short motor trip to various places Dr. and Mrs. Peirce will be at home June 20 at 213 South Seventh avenue, Clarion.

Jean Gross, of Beckford street, had her tonsils removed at the Jameson Memorial hospital this morning.

THE DEPRESSION HITS DIVORCE

IT IS an ill wind that blows no good, and it is interesting to note that since the economic depression began there has been a gradual decrease in the number of divorces in this country. For instance, 1424 fewer divorces were granted in this state last year than during 1931. While the complete figures for the other states are not available, there is reason to believe that the number has decreased considerably. It is true that there has been a general drop in marriages, but even in Pennsylvania counties where there has been an increase in marriages there has been a decrease in divorces. In 1931 the bond was severed for 7241 couples in the Keystone state, while last year only 5817 found it impossible to live together, making a decrease of slightly over 19 per cent.

What is the answer to this showing? Well, for one thing, hard times seem to have the effect of encouraging mutual forbearance surmises the Philadelphia Inquirer. Men and women realize more than ever that marriage is a partnership which calls for a certain degree of give and take.

On the other hand, prosperity induces luxury and that, as everyone knows, is not conducive to the sterner virtues. In the pioneer days of this country, when most of the people had to endure privations and hardships divorce was almost unknown. They expected to make sacrifices and they made them. The idea of separating for trivial causes rarely occurred to those who adventured into matrimony. It was a contract not to be lightly disregarded. Family life had a sanctity for the great majority of the people, and the making of homes was looked upon as a privilege as well as a duty.

But as wealth increased many chafed under the restraints of the marriage yoke and did not hesitate to throw it off. Soft living brought sad results which have not been good for either the individual or the state. It has been said repeatedly since the depression began that its economic lessons will not be lost upon the people. Is it too much to hope that its effects may also induce many to have a higher conception of the moral side of the marriage bond?

ANOTHER MAN, ANOTHER SCHEME

A New York attorney, chairman of a committee whose organization backing is velle for the moment, proposes a tax on machines as a convenient means of checking the incentive to use power and mechanical equipment as a substitute for human labor. The more labor-displacement a given set-up involved, the heavier would be the tax, and acting on the principle that "the power to tax is the power to destroy," the aim would be to put the tax so high in some instances as to prevent a given type of power and machine equipment from being used at all.

The author of the scheme prides himself on the ingenuity with which it is devised to eliminate the most effective machine devices and give preference in all cases to the types of equipment involving the least reduction of hand labor. This, he submits, would result in "a vasty wider distribution of purchasing power among the consuming public." He even holds forth the prospect of eliminating all unemployment by this method.

No account is taken, apparently, of the influence of the plan in discouraging manufacturing production, in reducing purchasing power represented by high-paid workers making use of advanced forms of machinery, in checking the development of new machines designed to bring greater comfort and advantages to the people, or the inevitable rise in the cost of products resulting from the exchange of an efficient and cheap means of producing articles in multiple by a comparatively crude and costly process.—The Springfield (Mass.) Union.

MATTERN, WHO FLIES ALONE

Saturday—New York; Sunday—missing over the Atlantic; Monday—Oslo, Moscow and off again eastward; Tuesday—in Siberia; Wednesday—on eastward.

Thus Jimmy Matern, flying Texan, huris himself and his plane along at a pace which dazes a world grown callous to the conquest of distance. Like Lindbergh and Amelia Earhart, Matern flies by himself, only he aims to go vastly farther, chard around to New York again in seven days less as much as possible.

Which means that in addition to battling wind and weather he must struggle constantly against the revolt of his own weary body, denied the rest which every human machine must have. After 3,600 miles across the Atlantic and 1,000 more along an unfamiliar course from Oslo to Moscow, Matern allows himself but a few hours sleep before he pushed on again into Siberia.

Poolhardy? Probably. A needless stunt which adds little if anything to the progress of the arts of aviation? Perhaps.

But in spite of it, all those who admire pluck and applaud daring are pulling for this lone flyer from the Lone Star state, stretching his luck in a mad jaunt around the world in less than seven days.

MATHEMATICS AS A SPORT

Many will not find much excitement in the announcement that West Point has beaten Harvard in mathematics, though the winning team cheered the result as if it had been a football game. The contest took place at the Military Academy last month, and the results have now been worked out. The games, if such they may be called, were divided into two three-hour morning sessions; differential and integral calculus and analytical geometry were the subjects over which the young brains battled. Since no spectators were allowed in the room, they had not the stimulus of cheers to spur them on.

Evidently intellectual prowess is not wholly overshadowed by physical. We are told that there was the greatest interest in the match at West Point, where it was held; whether there was equal excitement in the Yard at Harvard may be doubted. The object of the conflict of mathematical athletes was to determine whether West Point or Harvard methods of instruction were the better. But it is not certain that this point was definitely settled. The personal equation will have to be considered.

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

NO DIGNITY!
I've always been troubled because I didn't have dignity.

I'd be all dressed up in my best suit of clothes. My blue serge suit. My hair carefully combed. My face smoothly shaved and powdered and my ears tucked back. A high stiff collar and a stickpin in my narrow red tie. Patent leather shoes and "hot" red socks. And thinking quite well of myself. Crammed down and running over with Dignity. . . . And then I'd meet a woman with a baby and I'd stop to exchange a few words with the mother and child, and my Dignity would be tested.

She was always all right. She understood that I was grown up and dignified. She didn't tease me or accuse me of being a Big Fake. She accepted my outer appearance as the true indication of my inner maturity. . . . But the baby didn't. You know how it is when you go to the circus and see a small boy get too near the monkey cages, and a monkey reaches out and pulls his cap off? . . . Well, that's what the babies have always done to me. . . .

They grab my hat, bending down and admitting that, and the first thing I know they gurgle and explode. They knock my hat off. They clutch my hair. They get a good grip on my tie and yank it hard, and then they laugh joyously. What a good joke on that man! He was pretending he was dignified, but I fixed him. . . . And that's always what kids do to me. . . . I'm not boasting, I'm complaining! . . . They discover my first name and call me by it. They wrap themselves around my legs. They demand to be swung high in the air. They double up their small fists and want to "fight". They challenge me to wrestle. They grab my hat and throw lawn grass at me. They wear me out. They treat me as if I were about 8 years old. And when I talk to them from some enormous height, as an adult to an infant, they know it's the bunk and pull me straightaway down from my high horse. They won't let me be grown up. I think it's a plot. It's very embarrassing, and what I want to know is why I can't have any dignity! Elephants have dignity. Horses have it. Dogs have it. So do cats. Even a snake crawling slowly away from a man has got dignity. . . . Some babies have it, too. . . . And why, oh why, can't I?

And why, oh why, can't I?

And why, oh why, can't I?

"NEW INDUSTRIES"
Along with good, hard common-sense that increasingly is being manifested by leaders of government and business to pull this nation back into the sun of prosperity, there are no end of foolish suggestions. We note the present wide-spread comment that what the country needs most is some "new industry" to supply impetus, as in the case of the automobile or radio. How banal that is, in view of the facts! There has been a comparable time in our memory when so many people craved and needed the materials which are easily available to the consumer, with cash to pay his way. This country can be a paradise of comfort with what we have, and a mammoth market. Our people bought three and a half billion dollars worth of automobiles in 1929, and if profitable industry were humming today, as it was then, perhaps five billions of motor cars would be sold, because countless families need new and better cars. When the present movement to inflate prices and wages, thus to create production and employment, gets under way, there will be no trouble to sell all of the old products, let alone any new glittering baubles.

Reform Of Ships' Language
Illuminated By Tales Of Sea

Emotional Strain Of Maintaining More Guarded Vocabulary Is Forecast As Navy Commander Issues Orders To Sailors Of Fleet

Traditions of long standing are recalled as Admiral Leigh, commander of the United States fleet, issues orders that executive officers on naval vessels take immediate steps to eradicate profane language from the vocabularies of men aboard the ships. Lurid talk has been expected from those who follow the sea, and their picturesque words have been recorded in many ways. Emotional strain is predicted among those who obey these orders, and it is suggested that the sailors may be encouraged to produce new words which come within the rules of the service.

"Swearing is not to be condoned, of course," says the BOISE IDAHO STATESMAN, "but what man of good red blood lives, who, upon hitting his fingers with a hammer, will think to say 'Oh, Posh' just to avoid 10 days in the brig? We wonder if Admiral Leigh would. Imagine, under this 'new deal,' a husky blue-clad gob saying 'dear me' when he pinches his hand in closing the breech of a six-inch gun. Imagine another saying 'fiddlesticks' when he slips on a wet deck during a heavy sea and skins all points as he smashes up against a bulkhead. Or consider one of the officers enforcing the rule, when he has to change the ship's course in Oriental waters to keep from running down a bunch of fishing junks manned by stubborn Chinese. 'We are something to try men's souls.'"

"It is difficult," thinks the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, "to picture Farragut on an August morning in Mobile bay remarking from his place in the shrouds: 'Please ignore the torpedoes and kindly go ahead.' Still the old Navy could give hints to the new. It had its expressions forcible but not profane. 'Shiver my timbers' comes to mind. It would have the added advantage in the twentieth century of being entirely rhetorical. There are no timbers in a steel vessel. Our modern sailors living under an edict against swear words probably will not hesitate to live up to a much-quoted injunction. If they perform speak softly, they may still, figuratively speaking, carry a big stick for use when occasion warrants." The Transcript also suggests that under the rules the sailors might use the current expressions, "Oh, yeah!" and "You're telling me!" as they are not profane, but feels that they are worse than the "robust language" which is now forbidden.

"The typical salt of windjammer days" is remembered by the DAY-TON DAILY NEWS as one "with an unquenchable thirst for hard liquor and a vocabulary unequalled in any other profession," and that "japer believes that 'in fiction, at least, only such a colorful figure could successfully wrestle with 'O' Debbil Sea.'" That paper, however, concedes that "the sailor has undergone a transformation," and concludes: "It is a long while since we read of a 'treasure island,' but there remains a memory of one John Silver and others relieving emotion with epithets more strongly expressive than profanity could have been. In the case of the captain of the 'Pinafore,' when asked if he swore, his habit of occasionally indulging in a big, big D made his answer well—hardly 'swear' the truth than 'never.' The lingo of the sea itself seems to the landlubber expressive enough without swearing. Some of the gobs may slip, in the stress of trying moments, spite of the admiral's order. Evidence will be hard to obtain. Even if the wily ship's 'arrot makes indirect revelations, as, trace them, the source will be next to impossible."

Remembering that "for centuries seamen have been pioneers in profanity," producing "sea slang of pungency that has crept into common usage ashore," the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR comments on the new rule: "If the rule is strictly enforced, doubtless some new modes of expression will be invented to meet the needs of the gobs to whom straight-away polite epithets are inadequate. Sailors are traditionally inventive in this line, and they will probably meet this new emergency with variants that will pass muster on the quarter deck. It is to be feared, however, that for a time the disciplinary officers of the fleet will have a hard task dealing with the crews, whom the use of strong speech is as natural as the very winds that blow through the 'gullies.' For a time, it may be, they will have to be conveniently hard of hearing."

"We will have to be shown," declares the NEW YORK TRIBUNE, "before we will believe sailor will can his outraged emotions with 'Oh, fudge' or 'bother' or 'Gracious goodness me.'" That paper suggests: "It is possible that in the near future tattooing may be prescribed and the hermaphrodite be one with the cat-o-nine-tails. The only one has vanished, and so must now (presumably) be emphatic damning, blasting, infernal, consigning which once relieved the spirits of seafaring fellows in moments of pique. It is, however, conceivable that this newest approach to Pinafore propriety will be less simple of enforcement than was the ban on the strong waters. A bottle of red-eye, either before consumption or afterward, has certain tangible and recognizable characteristics, but a blazing oath uttered in wardroom or stokehold has about it an elusiveness which makes conviction for its crime a more difficult matter."

"Taken by and large," asserts the TETAPKANA GAZETTE, "the men of our navy are as fine as any man would care to be. But they do have excellent vocabularies, and there seems to be something about a sailor's life which makes that necessary. Take, for example, a busy coxswain engaged in bringing a motor launch up alongside a pier in a stiff cross wind against an adverse tide, with no one on the dock to take his lines but a couple of rookies who don't know a rope from a necktie. One shudders to think of the emotional strain he will suffer if he complies literally with Admiral Leigh's order."

ABOUT NOTRE DAME

The University of Notre Dame is not a large institution, but someone there a while back determined to put it on the map. The result is well known. The attendance at the University was not materially increased, but a certain quality was injected into the student body—much that the following conversation between a Notre Dame graduate and his "tend can be understood.

"So you went to Notre Dame, er?"
"Yeah."
"You played football, eh?"
"Naw."
"Oh, you played in the band, eh?"
"Naw."
"The hell you went to Notre Dame?"

A PLACE FOR EVERYTHING

When you can't find something you are looking for at home, don't first blame members of the family for having removed it from where you placed it?

It is your boast that if others would leave your things alone you would never have to hunt for anything.

What an untidy home it would be if everything were left just where you dropped it.

Newspaper clippings, advertisements, dozens of them, tucked around here and there because they were of interest to you and you wanted to save them.

Shoes in most any section of the house, shoes in the bathroom and slippers in library, just where you took them off, but can you remember?

If they are put away by a neat housekeeper you blame her, and if they are untouched where you left them, you still blame others for your out-of-place articles.

Your clothes would never be so-gather if left where you shed them. Don't blame others—blame yourself that you have not formed a habit of putting your things in a certain right place every time.

Much time is wasted and so much unnecessary results from dropping receipts, bills, letters and what-not—so say nothing of wearing apparel—all over the house.

P. & L. E. And B. & O. Plan To Effect Economy

Study Plans For Consolidating
Freight And Passenger
Service In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 7.—With agreement reached on a number of minor features, officials of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pittsburgh &
Lake Erie railroads today studied a proposal to consolidate freight and passenger facilities in Pittsburgh.

The move is being advocated as an economy measure, according to Charles W. Galloway, vice president of the B. & O.

It was considered likely the junction point of the two roads will be at Hays inasmuch as downtown connections between the two stations—located on opposite sides of the Monongahela river—would be difficult and expensive.

Officials said negotiations had not reached a point where any date for the consolidation could be set.

Gypsies Told To Keep Moving

Band Of About 25 Stop To Make Repairs At Service Station

State Policeman Andrew Hugh-manick, officer in charge of the local detachment of state troopers and Constable Tom O'Brien, this morning appeared in the midst of a band of approximately 25 gypsies several miles outside the city, along the New Castle-Butler highway.
They had gone there in response to a telephone call that gypsies had made their appearance in Lawrence county.

The officers questioned the gypsies and found that a trailer had parted from an automobile and repairs could not be made at the service station where they stopped. A member of the band was sent to the city to obtain necessary repair equipment.

They were told to start moving as soon as the repairs had been made.
The spokesman said the band was headed for Harrisburg, having come here from Akron. They encamped

PITTSBURGH, June 7.—Pitts-

Great Britain Has Talked War Debts With U. S.

Debt Proposal Has Been Made, But Is Unrevealed
At Washington

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 7.—Definite indications that Great Britain has made a debt proposal to the United States were forthcoming from administration officials Tuesday.
For the first time in weeks, officials withheld a negative reply in response to questions as to whether any debt offer had been received from Great Britain.

Refuses To Say.
This reticence followed reports from London that the British government was awaiting a reply from the United States to a communication delivered by Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador. Asked whether Sir Ronald had delivered a British debt offer and whether a reply was under consideration by this government, Assistant Secretary of State Moley said:
"I can't say."

This was the first time Moley has declined to state that no offers have been received. The White House also declined to comment.
Latest reports current here indicate Great Britain may propose either a debt trade during the duration of the world economic conference or falling in this, a partial payment on the $75,950,000 installment due this government ten days hence.

Plan To Hunt Gold Hoarders

President Roosevelt Signs
Steagall Bill Prohibiting
Gold Payment

LEGAL ACTIONS
MAY BE STARTED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 7.—Signature by President Roosevelt of the Steagall resolution prohibiting the gold payment clause in all public and private contracts may be the signal for a number of legal actions against the treasury. Meanwhile federal sleuths began a roundup of more than 1,000 who are hoarding gold in violation of stringent orders. Some foreign holders of American government obligations in England already have organized and were said to contemplate early action to test the legality of the gold clause resolution.

The claim was made that the action was unconstitutional in that it formed a breach of contract. Officials, however, declared there was no repudiation of obligations. All securities of the government will be paid with legal tender that must be maintained on a parity with gold and will have, therefore, the same buying power in the domestic market as gold.
"Any American money is as good as gold," one official said. "It is the duty of the secretary of the treasury to so maintain it under the gold standard act of 1910."

Beer Test Case May Reach Court

Philadelphia Man Will Fight Arrest For Selling Of Beer Without License

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—The state supreme court eventually may be called upon to rule on the constitutionality of Pennsylvania's new beer license law it was indicated Tuesday as the first test case on the new act arose when Magistrate Louis Hamberg held Louis Kaplan, 42, in $300 bail on a charge of selling beer in his candy store without first procuring a license.

Kaplan's attorneys, Charles F. Silt and Edward W. Faria, said they told their client it was unnecessary to procure a license and declared they would carry the case to the state supreme court if necessary.

The attorneys said they planned to attack the constitutionality of the law on the contention that arrests made under the statute are an "unreasonable" exercise of police law.

since beer is a commodity which does not require police regulation.

Protection Of Police

"The police law is based on the protection of health, morals and safety of the people and to protect them against fraud," the lawyers averred.

"Sale of beer is predicted on the belief it is non-intoxicating. Congress said it isn't and consequently it drops entirely out of the category of being an article which should be regulated in order to protect the community."

"We are of the opinion that the state can't blow both hot and cold on the question because it deprives a man of his poverty rights and his rights to go into ordinary business unless he meets certain requirements. We insist our client has the same right to sell beer without a license as soda water."

The attorneys said they believe the $300 license fee is illegal since the revenue feature of the act is covered by the tax of $1.24 a barrel.

Chesterfield's got what it takes TO SATISFY...

SMOKERS, men and women, are really thinking more about the kind of cigarette they smoke.

They know that there are all kinds and styles... They know that some things they can prove and some things they have to take the manufacturer's word for... They are really getting to know what it means for a cigarette "To Satisfy"

I'm telling you that CHESTER-

FLYING DERBY OF 1933 IS UNDER WAY

Eight 'Stunt' Flights Loom

Many Spectacular Plane Flights Across Ocean Being Planned

MORE ROUND WORLD JAUNTS ON PROGRAM

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1933, By International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 7.—The 1933 flying derby is on. With "Smiling Jimmy" Matern, American flying ace, setting the pace in his attempted round-the-world solo flight, an unusually large number of daring aviators—men and women—are making plans for sensational hops of the "stunt" variety which, if successful, will crash the page one headlines.

At least eight such flights are in the offing, some of them to take place soon. The projected flights include:

1. A solo flight around the world by Wiley Post, Oklahoma aviator, who will try to break the record he and Harold Gatty established in 1931 when they encircled the globe in 8 days, 15 hours, and 51 minutes.

2. A round-trip trans-Atlantic by Roger Q. Williams another noted aviator.

3. A non-stop solo distance flight New York to Bishire, Persia, or Karachi, India (a maximum of 7,200 miles) by General Francesco DePinedo, famous Italian aviator and explorer.

4. Trip flight—a non stop hop from London to New York, another from New York to Baghdad and a third, Baghdad to London, by James A. Mollison and his wife, the former Amy Johnson, British flyers.

5. Solo non-stop hop New York to Warsaw, Poland by Stanislaus Hausner, Polish-American flyer.

6. Solo flight New York to Rome by Cesare Sibelli.

7. Trans-Atlantic flight by Captain Errol Boyd and a woman copilot in the plane, Columbia, in which Clarence Chamberlain made his historic hop.

8. New York to Kaunas, Lithuania by Captain Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, Lithuanians.

Post Plans Hop

Perhaps the most spectacular of all these flights will be Wiley Post's around the world girdle which he hopes to accomplish this time in six days. Post plans to take off from Lloyd Bennett field, Brooklyn soon after June 20.

This time Post is "going as a passenger." A robot, or mechanical man will fly the plane. The wasp-powered Lockheed Vega, the same Winnie Mae which he flew before, has been equipped with a Sperry automatic pilot and while Post does the navigating the automatic pilot will fly the plane.

Post proposes to accomplish at least two new things. He intends to fly close to 14,000 miles in six days. He is also planning a non-stop flight from New York to Berlin, a distance of 3,900 miles. He is going to make fewer and longer hops the rest of the way around the globe.

Perilous Flights

has been tuned up at Floyd Bennett field, awaiting what he regards as the propitious time for the get-away.

He plans to stay in the air for sixty hours. He expects to sleep on the flight. He has rigged water jets and siren to his plane set to a time device to awaken him. He wants to travel at least 6,200 miles before coming to earth. His goal is "somewhere in Asia."

Roger Q. Williams, who flew with Captain Lewis A. Yancey, from Maine to Spain and then to Rome in 1929, plans to take off on his round-trip trans-Atlantic flight in July.

With two pilots, as yet unselected, he will fly from New York to Rome, non-stop, by the southern route, taking a course north of the Azores. After a short hop from Rome to Athens, the return trip will be made by way of Ireland, non-stop from Dublin to Chicago.

Williams intends to take off on July 24. He will go on that date even if the weather is only fairly good.

Other flights than those mentioned are being planned, or reported. A woman, Miss Rosetta Venturi, is said to be intending to make a hop from New York to Rome. The "flying fever" has gripped the aviators, now that the weather is good, and plenty of action is impending.

Says New Law To Save $5,000,000

Head Of Motor Truck Association Recommends Action On Reciprocity Move

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 7.—"By affixing his signature June 3rd to House Bill 146 Governor Pinchot has saved the people of Pennsylvania approximately $5,000,000," Ted V. Rodgers, President of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, said today.

The new law repeals one passed a year ago and restores full reciprocal registration privileges to out-of-state trucks for hire.

Mr. Rodgers estimated that because of retaliatory measures invoked by neighboring states, Pennsylvania commercial motor vehicle operators would be called upon to pay that sum into the treasuries of other states for the privilege of using their roads.

"Prior to the passage of our act in the special session last summer, all states in the east granted full reciprocal license privileges to trucks for hire," Mr. Rodgers explained. "The enforcement of our act precipitated the border truck war last November. That flare-up alone resulted in the loss of thousands of dollars of perishable freight, in addition to the sums expended unnecessarily for licenses in other states."

"The experience of New Jersey, New York, Maryland and other states, which have attempted to limit reciprocity, has been that it does not pay.

In addition to granting full reciprocity to trucks for hire, the new law extends the limitation on non-resident buses from 15 to 30 days. This bill was sponsored by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association.

Mr. Rodgers said he is informed that the neighboring states, which have been awaiting this action, will withdraw restrictions against Pennsylvania vehicles. A virtual truce with the several states has existed since November 15, 1932, despite occasional hostilities along the New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland fronts.

Annual election of officers of the Italian Order of the Sons and Daughters of America, Loggia Rinascenza No. 19 of this city, took place at a meeting held Sunday, in the King Humbert Hall on Division street. This and other important business was transacted during the afternoon.

Two superior officers expected from Pittsburgh for the meeting were unable to be present on account of illness and as a result a representative from Philadelphia took charge of the meeting and had supervision of the election.

Joseph Tomasselli, the retiring master of the lodge, was succeeded as the head of the local organization by Guy Casalella. The organization has been making headway under the retiring leadership and it is hoped to continue on in the same progressive manner in the future. The organization has a membership of about 150.

The officers elected are:—Master, Guy Casalella; assistant master, Mrs. Requila Matricardi; orator, Guy Matricardi; corresponding secretary, Joseph M. Russo; financial count of illness and as a result a representative from Philadelphia took charge of the meeting and had supervision of the election.

No Butler Case Decision As Yet

Board of County Commissioners Has Not Acted—Coal Field Is Closed

No statement has been made yet by the Lawrence County Commissioners as to their decision in the case of Mark Butler, County Coal Field Superintendent which was heard by the commissioners last week. At the close of the hearing the commissioners said that a statement from them would be forthcoming sometime this week.

"We have done nothing about it as yet," said A. E. Conner, president of the board. "We may get to it this week and it seems to me we should decide the matter one way or another. Commissioners Woods also said that nothing had been done yet toward formulating a statement. Commissioner Elder is out of the city today.

"The coal field is closed," said Conner "and as far as I am concerned it is going to stay closed. No men are working out there."

This mass meeting is being sponsored not by any particular ex-service organization but is a movement arising from the activities of a number of veterans without regard to affiliations.

Don't expect too much of the Mussolini agreement. Europe has had peace for 10 years, and look at it.

Only Three Recruits From County Rejected

Record established by Lawrence county in the recruiting of young men for the Civilian Conservation Corps is an enviable one and is reflecting much credit not only the young men from the district, but also upon those persons, who had charge of their selection and enlistment.

In the examination held Tuesday at the city building, there were but three men turned down due to physical defects that made it best for them not to be sent to the forest to work. This was in a quota of eighty-four that had been selected by the local committee to be sent away in this work.

In a total of 192 youths examined from the Lawrence county district, in reaching the counties total quota, there were but eight rejected, approximately four percent of the total, which is a rather remarkable showing according to the army officers, who made the examination.

The ordinary percentage of rejections runs from fifteen to twenty percent, and sometimes the percentage is even higher. The group of boys from the entire district consisting of Lawrence, Mercer, Butler and Venango counties was much better than the average according to the recruiting officers in charge of the examination.

Wakes Up To Find His Money Missing

M. O. Black, an employee of the Brown Feed Company, reported a very unusual experience early this morning to the police.

According to Mr. Black, he was standing at South Jefferson street and East Washington street about midnight, when all of a sudden something happened. Just what it was he does not know.

The next thing he remembered was when he woke up in the rear of 27 South Jefferson street, near Market Way. He found that someone had relieved him of $17.85 in cash.

He made his report to the police at 1:40 a. m.

But you see few bronze statues of men who said: "What do I care what happens to them, so long as I get mine."

Clearing Brush Along Park Drive

Plan To Put Large Squad To Work Next Monday Morning

Underbrush is rapidly being cleared out and trees are being aligned along the Loop driveway from the South Side to Cascade Park and within a few weeks it will probably be one of the nicest boulevards in this vicinity.

Twenty men yesterday worked under the supervision of Engineer Roy Stewart who said that there would be no difficulty in making a 20 foot driveway. Sand will be placed on the drive when the underbrush is cleared and roadbed scraped. It is believed that approximately 100 men will be sent to work on the roadway next Monday. At the present time the workers efforts are mostly confined to clearing away the brush.

Suspicious Men Are Arrested By Police

Police last night arrested Charles Vizzini and Sam Borruso, whom they had noticed about the city all day in a car bearing Ohio license 778-807 and whose actions were such as to create a suspicion as to their purpose. A piece of copper and a bottle of liquid were found in the car. The liquid was suspected as being nitroglycerine. It was examined by a chemist and found to be non explosive. The men arrested were discharged by the mayor with instructions to get out of the city.

Dean Is Punched By Derringer As Cards Take Game

Sock On Nose For Talkative Pitcher; Fight Squelched By 'King Kong' Vance

PEPPER MARTIN GETS FOUR HITS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 7.—Just before the season started, the two major league presidents made a stirring plea for more aggressiveness on the ball field, and they have received an enthusiastic response from the hired men and customers alike. Fans in Washington and Cincinnati are saying it with pop bottles, one first-class riot was staged at the Capital and numerous feuds are raging.

The latest vendetta came to a head in Cincinnati yesterday when "Dizzy" Dean, megaphone man of the St. Louis Cardinals and leading exponent of the perpendicular pronoun, talked himself into a punch on the nose. It was delivered by Paul Derringer, Dean's former teammate, but the fight was won by "King Kong" Vance, of the Cards. Vance squelched both belligerents by the simple method of sitting on them until they cooled off.

Called Names
Derringer was sore at the Cards anyway for trading him to Cincinnati and his ire was aroused further when Dean declined to smile when calling him certain names. A shower of pop bottles, one of which struck a player, and the ejection of two hired men from the premises, provided additional excitement.

St. Louis won the ball game, 6 to 2. Pep Martin and Joe Medwick led the attack with four hits apiece, Martin taking the lead in the league batting race.

The Cards failed to gain on the pace-setting New York Giants, who made it three straight over Brooklyn, 7 to 2, and dropped the Dodgers into seventh place. Carl Hubbell hung up his seventh victory for New York, while the Giants knocked Owen Carroll out of the box.

Gink Hendrick's pinch double climaxed a four-run rally in the eighth inning that staked the Chicago Cubs to a 5 to 3 verdict over Pittsburgh.

The New York Yankees increased their lead over Washington in the American league to six games by shelling the Red Sox twice, 4 to 0 and 8 to 4, while the Senators lost to the Athletics again, 8 to 4. The Yankees were outbatted in the opener, 11 to 8, but Pennock kept Boston's hits scattered. In the nightcap Babe Ruth walloped his eleventh four-bagger of the year, taking the lead in the home run derby. The Yanks have won seven straight, and Boston hasn't beaten them all season.

Mahaffey hit home
Mahaffey of the A's won his own game against the Senators, driving in three runs with a double much to the discomfort of Pitcher Wally Stewart, who had passed two men to get at the Philadelphia hurler. Stewart was yanked in the seventh when Coleman and Cochran hit homers.

The A's regained fourth place, passing the Cleveland Indians, who were set down 5 to 2 by "Schoolboy" Rowe of Detroit.

The Chicago White Sox made it four straight over the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 3, Lyons outpitching Blasholder. Kress of the Sox had a perfect day at bat with a homer, double and single.

The Braves and Phillies were not scheduled.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON
Central Press Association

CORRECT BALL WITH LOW FLIGHT AND "LOW SHOT INTO WIND" ARE ACTUALLY HALF MISSED SHOTS.

INCORRECT BALL WITH LOW FLIGHT AND "LOW SHOT INTO WIND" ARE ACTUALLY HALF MISSED SHOTS.

Ball with low flight and "low shot into wind" are actually half missed shots.

ALEX. MORRISON says: Everyone seems to admire the type of shot with a wood club which finds the ball traveling in a very low flight.

In order to send the ball in such a flight the club head must strike the ball much higher than it does when the ball is sent in its normal flight. The ball in a sense is "half topped".

It is easy enough to top the ball or miss the shot any time without deliberately trying for such a result.

Furthermore the distance gained is never worth the demoralizing effect on your swing. The normal flight of the ball is always best.

Dempsey Looks For Big Crowd

Expect Crowd Of Between 60,000 And 70,000 To See Baer-Schmeling Fight

BIGGEST BALLYHOO OF "TIGHT ERA"

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 7.—One of the biggest sports crowds of the "tight money" era is expected to turn out tomorrow night to see Promoter Jack Dempsey's ring spectacle, the fifteen round battle between Max Schmeling of Germany and Max Baer of California.

The fight has "caught on." Out-of-town fans are flocking here; hotels are crowding up with visitors; the advance sale has perked up considerably since the "ballyhoo," led by the personable Mr. Dempsey himself, has gone over with a bang.

Heavy Advance Sale
They say the "gate" will hit $250,000. (Not bad these days.) Dempsey thinks maybe three hundred grand. The advance sale today had reached the $150,000 mark, which is far ahead of the early sale of the Schmeling-Sharkey brawl of a year ago in Long Island City when the German lost the title through a questionable decision. It may be the crowd will total from 60,000 to 70,000 persons.

Betting is moderately brisk, with Schmeling a three to two favorite. The bankrolls are being unlimbered although no heavy wagers have been laid, yet. The Broadwayites seem to like Schmeling, the out-of-towners Baer.

Well Trained
The principals, Schmeling and Baer, trained to a fine edge, have completed their six weeks' conditioning grind and will spend the next 24 hours resting for the fray. Neither will do anything more vigorous than light calisthenics, and perhaps a little hiking.

Schmeling, who so strongly resembles Dempsey in many ways, will motor to New York today from his camp at Lake Swannanoa, chaperoned by his manager, Joe Jacobs, and his handlers. Baer also will come in today from Atlantic City, accompanied by his manager, Ancil Hoffman, his trainer, Mike Cantwell, and his father, Jacob Baer.

Baer in Hiding
Baer will hide out in a private home here until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when the principals will make their next public appearance at the weighing ceremonies. Schmeling is expected to tip the beam at his natural fighting weight of around 190 pounds and Baer at 200, or higher. There is an apparently well-founded report that the Californian may scale around 218 pounds.

Boxing writers were doing a lot of eleventh-hour "experting" today. They stood around in Jack Dempsey's Sporting Club, Inc., in the heart of the Broadway theatrical district, and "punched the bag." Sport is only a few blocks from Madison Square Garden, the fight the news hounds, Dempsey has become the "Tex Rickard" of the hour.

Baer Confident He Will Defeat Maxie Schmeling

Heavyweights Will Sling Gloves Tomorrow Night At Yankee Stadium

SCHMELING IS FAVORITE TO WIN

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 7.—To Max Schmeling, party of the first part, the approaching fight festivities constitute just another fight to be waged strictly on a cash and carry basis. And in passing it may be said that Max intends to confine his carrying tomorrow night to the 30 per cent of the $350,000 gate promoter Jack Dempsey fondly anticipates.

But to Max Baer, party of the second part, the proceedings have taken on the semblance of a holy war to be waged as an added protest to Hitler's alleged anti-semitism.

Baer Is Sincere

How sincere Baer is in his protest the writer, of course, is in no position to say but Baer was still talking about Germans and Jews today. Germans seem to be an obsession with him and if his feeling is on the level, it may play an important part in the fight.

But Baer is an uncertain individual at best. It's hard to say when he's clowning and when he's in earnest. It is not even certain that he's the 100 per cent Jewish he now claims to be and I shouldn't like to wager many kopecks that he weighs the 218 pounds he says he weighs.

The only thing about him is that physically, he's perfect; mentally, he's something less than a genius and esthetically, he leaves something to be desired.

Has Confidence

However, after watching him training for many days the only conclusion the writer can reach is this: Baer is bigger, faster, stronger and younger than Schmeling. He can take it till the debs come home—and they come in very late indeed—and he can hand it out about as hard as anybody in the ring today. He's bubbling over with confidence—no mean asset in itself—and possessing all these attributes he must be rated better than a 2 to 1 shot.

The writer agrees with Baer that his best chance to win is by a knockout. One gathers the impression from Baer himself that he believes his only chance to win is by a kayo and he seems to think if the fight goes the limit, Schmeling may get the decision.

In any event, it figures to be a sizzling battle for, as Baer himself said today, "Mr. Baer's little boy Maxie will be bearing down all the way," and you may also be sure Schmeling won't be handcuffed when the gong rings.

West Side A. C. Tops Merchants In 12 Innings

West Side A. C. baseball team gained a 2 to 1 decision over the East New Castle Merchants at the Shenango High Field Monday evening. The game was a 12 inning affair, with the West Siders scoring in their half of the twelfth.

The game was a hurling duel with Henry flinging them for the Merchants and allowing only six hits while the Merchants only had eight hits off Campbell, Carnaugh and Jackson did the heaviest hitting, getting extra-base wallops. Gwin, C. Jackson and Thomas had three hits apiece. Davis played a fine game for the West Siders.

Prices RallyFurther Gains In Business
Increase Prices Of Leading Stocks

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 7.—The stock market rallied vigorously today from yesterday's reaction as bullish sentiment was revived by further gains in business and the slump in the dollar to new lows since the nation abandoned gold.

The communications shares continued to lead the way with Postal preferred up 5 points more and International Telephone the centre of tremendous dealings at advancing prices.

A flood of buying swept over the list at the opening and brought trading again to a huge scale.

Utilities and steels were aided by the rise in their weekly output to new highs for the recovery movement. The rails, however, failed to reflect the new rise in traffic last week as the Atchafalaya preferred dividend cut and the Rock Island difficulties continued to weigh the group down.

Motors shares and accessories were churned over in big volume. Coppers were sluggish and oils did little. American Telephone was aided by the upturn in its April earnings. Packing stocks were given another whirl.

Farm stocks marked time as gains were backward again. Commodities generally were irregular, cotton losing more ground and silver rallying. Bonds were firm though Germans continued to sag.

Mrs. J. E. Caughey
Is Given HonorMembers Of Braeden Circle
And Church Ladies Arrange Event

ELLWOOD CITY, June 7.—Last evening the members of the Mary Braeden circle of the Wurttemberg United Presbyterian church were pleasantly entertained when they assembled at the home of Mrs. R. H. Kirk at Wurttemberg for their regular June meeting. Nineteen members were present to participate in the program.

Mothers and daughters of the Women's General Missionary Society was the topic for discussion and was presented in a clever manner by Miss Amy Ketter. Mrs. R. H. Kirk presented the mother society and Miss Faye Gallagher the daughters. Miss Lavee Hooker contributed a solo, "To The Hills."

During the meeting Mrs. J. E. Caughey was called home and arriving there was much surprised to find the ladies of the church gathered there to celebrate the occasion of her birthday anniversary which occurred on June 4. Members of the circle then joined the group. The evening was spent in a pleasant manner with games and chat and at an appropriate time a dainty repast was served by a group of ladies.

The honor guest was again surprised when she was presented with a beautiful flower garden quilt with the initials of each person in the center of their patch. Mrs. Caughey had unknowingly contributed a patch with her initials which was used for the center block.

Lamont Stock Selling Will Cause Battle

Morgan Firm Contends That Young Thomas Lamont Had Legal Right

AVOID PAYMENT OF INCOME TAX

(Copyright, 1933, By International News Service)
(Unauthorized Reproduction In Whole or Part Absolutely Prohibited)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The vast power of the great international banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Company was exerted today to prevent a senate inquiry into a quiet little series of stock transactions between Thomas S. Lamont, a junior partner, and his socially prominent wife, which enabled him to reduce his federal income tax in 1931.

The Morgan firm threatened a legal fight to the United States Supreme Court to prevent senate publication of the transactions. In the face of this terrific opposition, International News Service learned of the deals.

The information, gathered by special investigators, revealed that young Lamont sold securities on December 30, 1931, taking a small loss. On that day and the next following day, his wife purchased all that he sold—some directly and some through a broker. Mrs. Lamont paid for the securities with money borrowed from her husband, although she had an independent estate. She gave Lamont an unsecured note to guarantee repayment of the loan. Four months later, young Lamont bought the stocks back from her by the simple expedient of tearing up the note. This occurred in the second week of April, 1932.

Saved $1,900. The deals saved the Lamonts about $1,900 in federal taxes. These were the transactions which the great house of Morgan sought to shroud in secrecy. They were transactions, which John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for president in 1924 and now chief counsel to the house of Morgan, described as "perfectly legal."

Davis defended the transactions at a secret session of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee and in conversations with individual senators. He declared the sales by Lamont to his wife were bonafide and made in good faith. He insisted Mrs. Lamont was perfectly able to buy the securities, because she had an independent estate of her own, but followed her husband's advice in borrowing the money and giving her note.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There's this to say about weather of this sort, that is if you have any idea of talking about this weather. It does bring on the home grown strawberries. And just now we can think of nothing much more of a gastronomic bull's eye than a scuttle of home grown strawberries.

An old custom is being revived, the custom of taking a long walk before breakfast. Every morning now sees some lads from over around the Legion Home hiking to second dam and back before they tie on the coffee and sinkers. As a means of girth control, of appetite sharpening, or complexion fixing, the idea ranks up around the top.

What a piker Jules Verne was after all. Jules thought a trip around the world in eighty days was good for a volume of fiction and his readers thought he was bawling when he wrote it. Jimmy Mattern drops into Moscow in fifty one hours out of New York.

What a big help Jimmy could have been to Napoleon on that disastrous retreat from Moscow. The "Little Corporal" lost everything but his shirt getting out of that country and Jimmy gets in and out while Napoleon was moving a field kitchen a few miles.

Field kitchens reminds us of the 28th Division reunion which takes place here a week from Saturday. The boys will be back on the slumgullion and gold fish diet for a couple of days apparently, but the reunion will have this advantage, there will be no saluting.

There's an interesting chap living out on Huron avenue. To many of his neighbors he is just a good neighbor, a preacher who has no resident pulpit but who is engaged in some kind of church work. What some of them don't know is that he has been an educator of the first water, the president of a college in Illinois, one time head of the Greek department of Columbia University, and a man of unusual culture.

He has several volumes to his credit, is at home in the old classic languages, but would as soon think of splitting an infinitive as he would mentioning any of his accomplishments to you.

PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE AT GARAGE

Bertram Sisley of 7 South Jefferson street, who yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of keeper of a disorderly house did so in so far as it concerned the finding of liquor in his garage, rear 412 Croton avenue, and not in regard to his home. According to Mrs. Sisley, the home was visited by police but a small quantity of moonshine found in a bottle, was not found in any part of her residence. It was found in an unused attic, over which she had no control or was in any way connected with her home. There was no disorder or any evidence of a disorderly house at the home, Mrs. Sisley states.

MAN IS TAKEN TO DIXMONT HOSPITAL

Samuel Kuhn of near New Wilmington, was taken to Dixmont hospital this morning by Deputy Sheriff Andy Venditti. A commission, composed of Dr. Paul Wilson, Dr. H. C. Mitchell and Attorney Samuel L. Clark examined him yesterday and found him to be suffering from brain trouble.

GETS TEN DAYS

John Varley was arrested Tuesday when he became angry in a local five and ten-cent store when the clerk refused to sell him a bottle of bay rum. He was under the influence of liquor at the time. This morning Mayor Charles B. Mayne gave him 10 days in the county jail.

Our idea of the utmost in futility is striking against conditions nobody can help.
